

Juan Fernando Palacio Roldán

The EU image of Latin America. Historical perspectives and transatlantic relations in the 21st century (1983, Colombia) is writing the dissertation The EU image of Latin America. Historical perspectives and transatlantic relations in the 21st century under the supervision of Prof. Yvette Sánchez. Mr. Palacio studies how international actors, in particular the European Union, build up an image about Latin America, and how this image influences their policies toward the region.

Mr Palacio studied Economics at EAFIT University, earning a degree in Political Studies. Since 2007, he has worked as Lecturer of European Integration, International Economic Environment, and Geopolitics at EAFIT University and at the University of Antioquia, at both undergraduate and graduate level.

juan.palacioroldan@student.unisg.ch